Re: Mr Anton Botha: Multi-Prop

As a property owner, the challenges of keeping it in good condition are always present particularly if DIY is not a hobby that you have the time or inclination for! Having identified a number of 'priority DIY jobs' around the house over the last few months, it was apparent that the battle for completing them was rapidly diminishing.

So in joining BNI Woking in August 2016, it was great to meet someone such as Anton who has such a broad skill set of experience. In discussing a pressing DIY need (door replacement) with Anton, he was quick to visit our property and identify exactly how he could remedy the situation. He arranged to source the new door, collect it and fix it – all in the space of a morning. The replacement door was fitted perfectly with no hassle or mess.

If you would like a trustworthy, practical handyman service for either commercial or residential purposes, then look no further than Anton Botha. I would highly recommend his genuine, personal approach and excellent customer service.
